Hi Dave;

As promised, please find attached some pictures that I have taken over the last couple of days. As you can see we get a lot of sun. As a very first test of the product, late yesterday afternoon I went up in the loft on the south west corner to touch the underside of the roof and it was COOL to the touch. I mean no warmth at all! In fact, The entire loft area was very comfortable. I am most anxious to start the monitoring process of the electrical consumption, but that will have to wait another month.

Anyway, you can see Therma-Sheet in action on what will hopefully lead to the generation of future sales.

Talk to you soon.

Kind regards,

Kelly
